Notice.

THE present volume takes the place of two publications which have hitherto been issued annually by the Government of India. These are the "Finance and Revenue Accounts and Miscellaneous Statistics relating to the Finances of British India, Part III," of which the 15th and last issue was published in 1893, and the "Statistical Tables relating to British India," of which the 17th and last issue was also published in 1893. All the statistics contained in those two volumes are continued in this volume, with the addition of tables showing the Income Tax revenue and charges.

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS AND EXPLANATORY MEMORANDA.

I.

AREA AND POPULATION.

[TABLES 1 TO 8 , PAGES 1 TO 22.]

The area of the Empire is a little over 1½ million (1,560,080) square miles, but this does not include certain tracts whose area has yet to be determined. This area contained 52,921,608 inhabited houses being in the proportion of 34 to each square mile. The total population was about 287½ millions (287,306,168), the average density being at the rate of 184 persons to the square mile. The increase in British territory, omitting those tracts for which no comparison can be made, namely, Upper Burma and Baluchistan, is about 9½ per cent. In the Feudatory States the increase is much greater, but it is more apparent than real, the Census of 1881 in some of those States having been very defective. The three most densely populated provinces are Oudh with 522 persons, Bengal with 471 persons, and the North-Western Provinces with 411 persons to the square mile. The only approach to this density is found in Travancore and Cochin, with an average of 385 to the square mile. In the British districts of Madras the average is 252, and in all other British territory the average is much lower, being as small as 53 in Lower Burma and 35 in Upper Burma. In Kashmir the average falls to 31 to the square mile, the mountain ranges beyond the valley being very sparsely inhabited. Of the total population, 175,380,017 persons (male and female), being 61 per cent. of the whole, are dependent on agriculture. There are also 25,467,971 males and females, being 8·86 per cent., classed as labourers. These two classes, therefore, constitute nearly 70 per cent. of the population, and as the majority of the labourers work in the fields, it may be said that well over two-thirds of the people are dependent directly on the land. Persons engaged in commerce and trade number 8,638,450, being about 3 per cent., and persons engaged in industrial occupations 47,600,237, being about 16½ per cent. of the population.

There are 76 towns with a population exceeding 50,000, 28 of them having a population exceeding 100,000, and 6 a population exceeding 200,000.

II.

SALT.

(TABLES 1 TO 21, PAGES 24 TO 49.)

Production.

The total quantity of salt produced in India in 1892 was a little over 23¼ millions of maunds compared with 26¼ millions in the preceding year. The production in Northern India, especially at the Sambhar lake, and in Bombay, was on a very reduced scale, owing to seasonal causes. This quantity was supplemented by 10,070,187 maunds of imported salt, the total quantity produced and imported amounting to 33,321,899 maunds, about 70 per cent. of the whole being produced in India. Importation is practically limited to salt brought to Bengal and Burma from England, Germany, other countries in Europe, Aden, Muscat, Jeddah, and a few other places, and there is also a trifling trans-Himálayan import. The localities where salt is manufactured are these:—

Consumption and Revenue.

In 1892-93, 35,051,441 maunds of salt paid duty, the duty realised amounting (exclusive of miscellaneous receipts) to Rx. 8,410,663, the quantity being 1·74 per cent. and the duty 2·01 per cent. more than in the previous year.

SALT—continued.

The subjoined table shows the progress in consumption in the last twenty years. In the five years ending with 1877-78 the increase was small, hardly exceeding an annual average of 1 per cent. In the next five years ending 1882-83 the rate of increase was nearly 3 per cent. yearly. In the five years ending 1887-88 consumption again increased, the average annual rate being over 3 per cent. In 1888-89 consumption was restricted, mainly in consequence of the increase of the tax, in January 1888, from R2 to R2½ in India and from three annas to sixteen annas in Burma. Prices have also been kept at a high level in Bengal by the action of the English Salt Syndicate and in Madras by the action of local manufacturers to whom the production of salt had been largely abandoned by Government. A check has since been applied to the rise of prices, in Bengal by the competition of German and other imported salt, and in Madras by the resumption of manufacture on account of Government. Consumption has since recovered, but the average of the last five years is only 3·11 per cent. in excess of that of the previous five years.

Bengal (Lower Provinces).

Tax levied on salt under the Mahomedan Government.

Under the Mahomedan rule a tax was levied on the salt consumed by the people of Bengal by means of imposts on the privilege of manufacture, and duties on the transportation of salt from the places of manufacture to the interior of the country.

Commencement of the East India Company's monopoly.

A monopoly for the manufacture and sale of salt was first established in Bengal by Lord Clive in 1765, the chief object being to provide fitting emoluments from the profits for the principal persons concerned in the Government, and thus to prevent their mixing in the intrigues and questionable transactions by which Civil Servants and others in those days often amassed enormous fortunes. Half the monopoly profits were to be distributed among the officers of Government, and the other half it was proposed to credit to the Company. In his minute of the 3rd September 1766, Lord Clive assumed that this share would yield, "according to the present state of the salt trade, from 12 to 13 lakhs of rupees annually." The rate fixed for deliveries was Rs. 2 per maund.

The existence of this monopoly was of but short duration, as the Court of Directors entirely disapproved the arrangements. At the same time, however, the Court stated that they did not object to the levying of the ancient duties on salt, which had always constituted part of the revenues of Bengal.

In the year 1772 the manufacture and wholesale trade of salt was farmed out by Government to private individuals; but this complicated farming system was never very productive and soon failed.

Establishment of the Company's salt agencies.

In 1780 Warren Hastings introduced a system for the manufacture and sale of salt under the agency of the Company's Civil Servants. In accordance with this system, the molunghees received advances from the agents at the beginning of the season, on the stipulation that they delivered their salt to the Government, when made, at a certain price, and the agents afterwards stored the salt and sold it to wholesale dealers at a price fixed from year to year by the Government.

The difference between the price agreed upon with the molunghees and the price at which it was delivered from store to the traders was thus in effect the duty levied upon the salt.

Bengal (Lower Provinces)—continued.

In 1788 the sale of salt by public auction, instead of at fixed rates to the dealers, was introduced by Lord Cornwallis. The revenue immediately rose, but the system was eventually abolished by the Court of Directors in 1837, as it was found to lead to the establishment of sub-monopolies, injurious to the interests of both the people and the Government.

Introduction of a fixed duty system.

In their despatch of the 4th January 1837, the Court of Directors ordered that the price to be thenceforward paid by the purchasers of salt should be determined by the cost price of manufacture, added to a fixed rate of duty.

The rates of duty since fixed from time to time have varied from a maximum of Rs. 3-4 to a minimum of Rs. 2 per maund; but the system for the manufacture and supply of salt, as introduced by Warren Hastings in 1780, continued in force, with but few modifications until the year 1862, when the several salt agencies were gradually abolished, leaving the supply of salt, either by importation or excise manufacture, to private enterprise. The several salt agencies were situated in the province of Orissa and in the districts of Chittagong, 24-Parganas, Jessore and Midnapore.

Exception in the rule as regards the fixed duty.

The full rate of duty on salt was not, however, levied uniformly throughout Bengal until 1862. From the year 1810 a system of retail sales at reduced prices from shops established on the part of Government was introduced in districts and localities where salt was manufactured, or was capable of being easily produced; the object being, as stated at the time, to leave the people residing in such tracts without excuse for violating the law under the temptation of a high rate of duty, and to obtain some revenue in a part of the country where, from the great facilities for smuggling, it had been found impracticable to realise full prices.

From inquiries held during the years 1860 and 1861, the Government concluded that the loss of revenue entailed by the remission of a large proportion of the duty on the salt consumed within the saliferous tracts was, under existing circumstances, far larger than would arise were the full duty levied.

The system of retail sales at reduced prices was therefore abolished from the year 1862.

Preventive arrangements for the protection of the revenue.

From the commencement of the salt monopoly, a preventive establishment was employed for the protection of the revenue. This establishment was for the most part separate from, and independent of, the agency constituted for the manufacture and supply of salt, and was employed in Northern Bihár to prevent the influx of more lightly taxed salt from the westward, and also within certain defined limits which included the saliferous tracts on the seaboard of Lower Bengal.

By Regulation X of 1819 the general control of this preventive department was vested in the Board of Customs, Salt and Opium, established in that year.

On the passing of Act XIV of 1843, imposing an additional duty of one rupee per maund on salt passing from the North-Western Provinces to the eastward of Allahabad, the establishment in Bihár was withdrawn. The one rupee was in June 1847 reduced to 12 annas, and in April 1849 to 8 annas. In March 1861 the additional duty was abolished.

In Lower Bengal the limits within which the preventive force were entertained have been narrowed from time to time so as to concentrate their operations in the salt-producing tracts only.

A further check.

As a further check against illicit manufacture within these limits, all salt under transport was required to be conveyed by certain specified routes and pass stations, and to be covered by protective documents, under penalty of confiscation. Merchants and dealers were also required to record all sales and losses from their stocks on the reverse of their protective documents.

The law and rules on this subject have been modified from time to time. Those now in force are contained in Act VII of 1864 and the Government Notifications issued under that Act.

In 1863 the special preventive establishment was abolished, and all duties previously discharged by them were delegated to the regular police force. In addition to the sea-coast and salt-producing tracts, the police have also to guard the frontiers of Arakan to prevent the ingress of the more lightly taxed salt from those districts.

The administration of the Salt Department in Orissa was formally made over to the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, in February 1888, and the Indian Salt Act, XII of 1882, has been in force there since.

Commencement and progress of excise manufacture.

In 1835-36 the excise manufacture of salt was first commenced by private individuals, but the continuance of the system was subsequently negatived by the Court of Directors in 1840.

In 1847 the manufacture of salt under certain excise rules was again permitted, but for many years the quantity produced was very small.

Excise manufacture was carried on to a considerable extent in Orissa for some years, and the quantities made were at one time sufficient for the supply of the province; but latterly it has greatly fallen off. In 1867-68 it was recommenced, though on a small scale, in the district of the 24-Parganas, and continued until 1881-82, after which it was abandoned.

SALT—continued.

Bengal (Lower Provinces)—concluded.

In 1891 the direct manufacture of salt by Government was re-introduced into Orissa with a view to afford employment to the molunghees and reduce the price of salt.

Importations of salt by sea.

Foreign salt was first imported into Bengal in the year 1818-19. No large importations, however, occurred until the year 1835-36.

At first, and until the fixed duty system was adopted, customs dues were levied at such rates as were considered necessary to maintain the average prices of the Government sales.

The old stocks of salt manufactured at the Government agencies were exhausted in 1873-74, and since then the consumption in the whole of Bengal, with the exception of Orissa, may be said to have been supplied by imported salt.

The following are the descriptions of salt now commonly imported, the bulk of the importations being from Liverpool:—

Manufactured by solar evaporation :	Bombay, Madras, Ceylon, Jeddah, Muscat, Aden, Italian, and French.
Manufactured by boiling :	Liverpool and Hamburg.
Rock Salt :	Muscat.

Rates of Duty.

The rate of duty on salt in Bengal has been as follows: From 1837 to 1844 Rs. 3-4-0 per maund. In November 1844 Rs. 3, in April 1847 Rs. 2-12-0, and in April 1849 Rs. 2-8-0. In December 1859 the duty was again raised to Rs. 3, and in March 1861 to Rs. 3-4-0. In January 1878 the rate was reduced to Rs. 3-2-0, in August 1878 to Rs. 2-14-0, and in March 1882 to Rs. 2. On 19th January 1888 the rate was raised to Rs. 2-8-0, this being the rate now levied.

Conventions with the French Government in the matter of salt.

In 1815 a convention was made with the French Government, under the terms of which the East India Company agreed to supply sufficient salt for the consumption of the French Settlement of Chandernagore at prime cost from the Orissa and Midnapore agencies. The quantities of salt thus supplied free of duty varied from maunds 4,000 to 12,000 annually. This arrangement held good until the year 1839, when the Company entered into an engagement to pay annually a sum of Rs. 20,000 to the French Government on their agreeing to buy their salt in the open market at the price paid for it by other inhabitants of Bengal. This payment is still continued.

Madras Presidency.

In 1805, what is known as the monopoly system was established. Under that system the private manufacturers, who occasionally received advances from Government, and who were paid at different rates varying with the locality, were prevented from selling the salt to any but Government. The salt was resold by Government at a price calculated to include the purchase money paid to the manufacturers and the expense of storage, transport, etc., reduced to an average for the whole presidency. This price was independent of duty, and at first was two annas, but by Act XVIII of 1877 it was fixed at three annas per maund, this Act was repealed by Act XII of 1882, which, however, prescribed no minimum for Government Salt. But by section 8 of the Act, the Local Government was empowered to fix, by notification in the local official Gazette, the minimum price at which the Government Salt should be sold. No such notification has been issued and three annas per maund is still adopted as the minimum price of salt in most of the Government factories, though a special rate of two annas a maund has been sanctioned in two factories, with a view to stimulate the trade with Hyderabad in the case of Pandraka, and to get rid of the stocks in the case of the Vaippar factory which has been ordered to be closed.

2. In the eastern maritime districts these arrangements prevailed without modification up to 1881-82. In 1882-83 the excise system was introduced in the group of factories near Tuticorin; and was at the end of 1892-93 in force in 50 out of 69 factories, including the new factories and extensions opened for the accumulation of Government reserve stocks. Under this system manufacture, storage, and sales are carried on under Government supervision on private account, subject only to the payment of the duty on removal from store plus a cess to cover interest on the capital cost of the works executed by Government under the old system, and made over to the licensees on the introduction of excise.

3. It was expected that one effect of the excise system would be a reduction in the cost of salt to the consumer. This expectation has not, however, been yet realized, prices having on the contrary risen in many places owing to combination on the part of a few capitalists who have managed to get the licensees into their hands. Government is now endeavouring to control prices by forming, in suitable centres, reserve stocks of salt which can be put into the market at reasonable prices whenever prices show a tendency to rise too high, and the result of these measures so far is that prices have not risen further and seem to shew some tendency to fall.

4. In Malabar no salt is manufactured, and the district is supplied by imports from Bombay, Goa, and other places. These imports were formerly made by Government, but Government withdrew from the trade in 1877. In South Canara the excise system was substituted for the monopoly system in 1877, but the local manufacture of salt was abolished in 1883-84, as the salt produced was of inferior quality, and the pans were difficult and expensive to guard. Even when salt was manufactured locally, the supply fell short of the demand, and the deficiency was made good by importations from the Bombay Presidency as in Malabar. When these importations were made by the Government, that is, down to 1877-78 inclusive, the imported salt was sold at a price equal to the Madras duty, namely, the general gross selling price (less three annas a maund) plus the assumed cost of the salt. Private imports on payment of duty were also permitted, but the trade was almost non-existent until Government withdrew from importation, as the cost of salt sold by Government had been improperly fixed so low as to forbid competition. Since Government ceased to import the trade has greatly increased. Act XVI of 1879 renders the transport of salt in any vessel, of less than 300 tons burden illegal on the west coast within a certain limit, unless under cover of passes which practically confine the privilege to duty-paid salt.

5. Certain quantities of salt are annually supplied to the French settlements in the Madras Presidency, under an old convention with the French Government, at cost price. A further quantity, generally less than one thousand maunds annually, is also supplied at prime cost from the Canara District for the Amindivi Islands, but this salt does not now pass through the accounts of the Salt Department. It is purchased by the Collector of South Canara in the open market and supplied to the Islanders, at cost price inclusive of duty, the charges being adjusted to the accounts of the Island.

6. When salt was purchased by the heap of 1,200 maunds without measurement or weighment, a discount of 5 per cent. on the general selling price was allowed until 1877-78. In a few instances a larger discount was allowed to wholesale purchasers, in order to clear out stores in remote parts of a district, or for other special reasons, such as the clearances of old salt in the Kistna District, which had been injured in the cyclone of 1864.

7. The greater part of Mysore, a part of the Nizam's territory, and portions of the southern and eastern parts of the Central Provinces are supplied with Madras salt ; but in these returns these supplies are not distinguished from the sales for consumption within the Madras Presidency.

8. The general selling price of salt in the Madras Presidency has been as follows, namely :—

9⅓ annas a maund, of $82\frac{2}{7}$ lb from 1805 to November 1809.
14 ,, ,, ,, from November 1809 to a date in 1820.
9⅓ ,, ,, ,, from 1820 to June 1828.
14 ,, ,, ,, from June 1828 to 31st March 1844.
1 rupee 8 annas a maund, reduced in the same year to 1 rupee a maund, from April 1814 to July 1859.
1 ,, 2 ,, ,, from August 1859 to 2nd April 1861.
1 ,, 6 ,, ,, from 3rd April to 3rd June 1861.
1 ,, 8 ,, ,, from 24th June 1861 to a date in 1865-66.
1 ,, 11 ,, ,, from a date in 1865-66 to October 1869.
2 rupees a maund from October 1869 to 27th December 1877.
2 ,, 11 annas a maund from 28th December 1877 to 9th March 1882.
2* ,, 3 ,, ,, from 10th March 1882 to 18th January 1888.
2 ,, 11 ,, ,, from 19th January 1888 to date.

These rates are inclusive, as observed in paragraph 1, of a cost price of two annas, or latterly of three annas per maund, and were formerly abated by 5 per cent. for purchase, without measurement or weighment, of a heap of 1,200 maunds.

9. Up to May 1865 Travancore and Cochin had monopolies of salt, the selling price in Travancore being R1-1 a maund and in Cochin 12 annas. By the Convention of that year both States agreed to adopt the British Indian selling price of salt and to raise the rates at inland depôts, "so as to place the salt of Cochin, Travancore, and British India on the same footing in the market." The Cochin and Travancore States were to import salt from British India on the same terms as those on which it was imported into British Indian ports. The British Indian price was then R1-8 and, nominally at least, the selling price of the monopoly salt of Cochin and Travancore has followed the successive enhancements of the rate of duty in British territory.

Bombay Presidency, exclusive of Sind.

The salt produced in the Bombay Presidency is partially exported beyond the Presidency by land to Central India, including Rajputana and Malwa, the Central Provinces, the North-Western Provinces, and the Nizam's Territories, and by sea to British and Foreign Malabar in the Madras Presidency, and to Calcutta and the Straits Settlements. Under existing arrangements exports, both by land and sea, pay full excise duty in Bombay, with the exception of those to Foreign Malabar, on which a nominal charge of 3 pies per maund only, to cover cost of establishment at the salt pans, is levied, in pursuance of a trade convention concluded with Travancore and Cochin in 1865. Credit for periods varying from 60 to 90 days, according to destination, is allowed, however, in the case of full duty exports to the value of R2,000 and upwards, both by land and sea, on the exporter entering into an agreement and depositing Government securities, blank endorsed, of sufficient value to cover the duty. Down to 1874 exports to the Malabar Coast were free, subject to payment of customs duty on arrival, and the same system was followed temporarily in the case of exports to Calcutta from 1860 (up to which year excise duty had been levied subject to 4 months' credit under bonds) until 1874. In the latter year the system of prepayment of excise duty was made general. The plan of giving credit on security of Government paper was introduced almost simultaneously, and these arrangements have since been maintained with a short interruption during 1876-77, when exports to British Malabar were again allowed for a few months free of excise duty. Exports to Calcutta and to certain fixed ports on the Malabar Coast are allowed a drawback of excise duty on actual wastage, not exceeding 5 per cent.

Mr. Plowden remarks in his report on salt in British India, dated 24th May 1856, that "it was not until the 15th December 1837 that salt was erected, by Act No. XXVII of that year, into a source of considerable revenue in the Presidency of Bombay; prior to that date it was one of many miscellaneous items, as under the native Government."

Under Act XXVII of 1837 the manufacture of salt in the Bombay Presidency was placed under restriction, and the produce, in common with the importations of salt by sea and land, was subjected to a duty of eight annas a maund. The object of the duty was to compensate partially the loss to the general revenue from the abolition of inland transit duties. In 1844, to set off a further loss of revenue from the abolition of the moturpha, or tax on trades and professions, the duty was raised from 1st September to one rupee a maund, but immediately after it was reduced in the same month, with effect from the same date, to 12 annas a maund, at which rate it continued until August 1859, when it was raised to one rupee a maund, and was again raised on 13th April 1861 to one rupee four annas, and on 20th January 1865 to one rupee and eight annas a maund. By Act XXIV of 1869 the duty was raised to one rupee thirteen annas a maund, and by Act XVIII of 1877 to two rupees and eight annas a maund. By notification, dated 10th March 1882, the duty was reduced to rupees two a maund, and again by notification, dated 19th January 1888, raised to two rupees and eight annas a maund.

Except in Gujrat, the excise system is followed, under which licenses are issued for private manufacture at places approved by the officers of Salt Revenue, which are guarded, and from which no removals are allowed, except upon payment of the prescribed duty, or under the credit rules already referred to. In Gujrat, where all the works in British territory are the property of Government, the monopoly system was introduced in 1873-74, and manufacture was concentrated at two places only—Kharaghora on the borders of the Runn, and Balsar on the sea coast of the Surat Collectorate. At Kharaghora large crystal salt is made from brine wells under departmental supervision, bought from the manufacturers as it is ready, stored, and sold at the cost and risk of Government. At Balsar the salt is ordinary sea-salt, and Government merely fixes the price at which it is to be sold without taking it over or interfering directly with manufacture. A small quantity of salt is issued annually free of duty from the works at Kharaghora to certain native States and Chiefs, in pursuance of the arrangements for the establishment of the monopoly.

By a treaty concluded in 1880, the manufacture of salt in Portuguese territory was placed under the control of the British Government for a term of twelve years. On the expiry of certain tentative arrangements made for the first three years, the salt works in Diu were handed back to the Portuguese authorities and private manufacture stopped at all works in Damaun and Goa, except such of those in Goa whose owners were willing to work under the British excise system. Besides these, manufacture was carried on at a certain number of selected works, either by the Portuguese Government on their own account, or by contractors for the British Government, to supply the quantity (about 140,000 maunds) of duty-free or nominal duty salt required annually, under the terms of the treaty, for local consumption, fish-curing and manure, or by sub-lessees on the excise system on refund to the British Government of the fixed compensation paid by the latter to the proprietors concerned. This treaty came to an end on the 14th January 1892, when British control over the Portuguese salt works ceased.

There were formerly certain works in Cambay, at which the duty was shared between the Nawab, a territorial owner, and the British Government as successor to the chouth formerly levied by the Peshwa. This arrangement, however, ceased in 1878, when the works were finally closed by agreement with the Nawab, under which he is paid R40,000 as annual compensation and gets 500 maunds duty-free salt for his own consumption.

Besides the duty-free salt issued to certain Chiefs in Gujrat, the Nawab of Janjira is allowed, under a salt and customs convention concluded in 1884, to purchase and remove duty-free from the neighbouring salt works in British territory the quantity required for the use of himself and his subjects.

Sind.

Until the establishment of British rule, when the system was discontinued, a revenue was derived from salt under the system of batai, that is, a share of proceeds.

From 1843-44 (when Sind was annexed) to 1847 no duty was levied on salt.

About the year 1848 certain native speculators applied for permission to export to Bombay and Calcutta salt from the Sirganda deposit in the Shahbandar division of the Karachi district—a very extensive deposit of the purest salt—and were permitted to do so on payment of an excise duty of 12 annas per maund, which was the rate of duty in the Bombay Presidency at that time, a drawback to that amount being allowed at the place of import beyond Bombay.

A company, called the Karachi Salt Company, was started in the year 1854, with a capital of R10,000, to export salt to Calcutta, Malabar, and other places, and to supply Sind itself with salt at a cheap rate and monopolise the trade.

The expectations of the Company that they would undersell manufactured salt in Sind and obtain a monopoly within the province, were not realised, but they soon had a brisk export trade and were making considerable profits, when a question arose between the Sind authorities and the Bengal Government regarding payment at Calcutta of the drawback for excise duty paid at Karachi on the quantity of salt exported. Payment of this drawback was claimed by the Sind authorities and refused by the Bengal Government; the salt-trade, while this discussion was going on, was suffering, for, weighted with an excise duty levied in Sind, plus the full duty in Bengal, it was unable to keep the market against Liverpool salt which just then ruled very low in Calcutta. When the Karachi Salt Company was wound up does not appear, but the levy of both duties, namely, export duty in Sind and import duty in Bengal, stopped the trade and it ceased to be mentioned shortly after the Supreme Government had pronounced authoritatively in favour of the Bengal authorities. Spasmodic efforts continued to be made to revive the export trade, but never successfully. A further effort is now being made by some European capitalists. The Government of India have recently granted a monopoly for three years to a person under certain conditions for the removal of Salt from the Sirganda Deposit to Calcutta and to places outside the Bombay Presidency. The drawback rules on account of wastage applying to export of salt from the Bombay Presidency will be equally applicable to exports from Sirganda. If the exporter should be able to sell the Salt in Calcutta at a cheaper rate than is ruling at present, consumers will be considerably benefited.

While these discussions were going on, salt intended for internal consumption in Sind continued untaxed until the year 1861, when the Government of India suggested that a duty should be levied on salt manufactured or imported into Sind, and, after some correspondence, the Government of India accepted a proposition made by Mr. Inverarity to "regulate the manufacture of salt under a system of licenses, the cost of which is to be determined by the Collector with reference to the probable outturn of the factories at a rate of excise fixed at 8 annas a maund, an excise duty at the same rate being levied on all salt imported into Sind from the neighbouring States." Though it accepted this proposal, the Government of India remarked that it was preferable, if practicable, that the correct principle of taxing every maund of salt manufactured should be asserted.

In June 1862 at all factories a duty of 8 annas per maund was levied, and the same duty was levied on salt imported into Sind from neighbouring States by sea or river, but no duty was levied on salt sent by land, it having paid the duty at the place from which it was imported.

In the Frontier District the duty at the manufactories was levied from 1863-64 up to 1866-67.

From 1867-68 to 1868-69 the Government duty levied at the factories was R0-8-6 per maund.

The "License System" was prolific in abuses and was superseded for a time by the "Farm System." This was found even more defective and injurious to the salt revenue and the license system was, therefore, again resorted to; but a system under which manufacture was permitted at hundreds of small earth-salt factories scattered over all parts of the province was generally condemned, and Government approved proposals for the suppression of the manufacture of earth-salt, the working of the natural deposits, and the collection of stocks at central stores while their distribution was left to private enterprise. To put these measures in operation it became necessary to organise the Sind Salt Department in its present form to secure the full collection of the revenue and to watch and prevent illicit practices.

The duty was raised at the commencement of the calendar year 1878 from 8 annas to R2-8-0, as in other parts of India; in 1882 it was reduced to R2 a maund, and in January 1888 it was again raised to R2-8 per maund.

There are four salt sources in Sind from which salt is now issued to the public, namely, Maurypur works, Saran and Dilyar deposits, and Sukkur depôt. The Maurypur works, where the salt is manufactured by solar evaporation were opened in the year 1878, and from these almost the whole province is supplied.

The works are situated on the Moach plain adjacent to the end of the harbour, from which by narrow channels the brine supply is obtained, reaching the storage wells by percolation. The works are surrounded by a water channel, inside which is a bund about five feet high. In the centre of the works are two platforms on which salt is stored in large longitudinal stacks covered with matting.

The Saran and Dilyar deposits were opened in 1879 and 1882 respectively. The salt is formed in a lake or dhund from which, when the water dries, salt is excavated and stored. It is supplied to the inhabitants of the neighbouring villages of the Thar and Parkar districts.

The Sukkur depôt was opened on the 1st April 1884, salt being sent thither from the Maurypur works for the convenience of the people living in the Shikarpur district.

The State of His Highness Mir Ali Murad Khan of Khairpur is supplied with salt from Sukkur and Dilyar duty free, and all salt factories in Khairpur territory are closed.

All the salt works open at the time of the license and farming systems have been closed, and the revenue is protected by a preventive establishment who guard the natural salt formations in Sind as well as check illicit manufacture and smuggling from foreign territory.

Northern India.

The revenue was formerly collected through the agency of the Inland Customs Line, which was formed in 1843-44 and was extended at various times, until it reached from Torbeila near Attock, on the Indus, to the Mahanadi in the Sambalpur district of the Central Provinces. It was 2,472 miles in length, and was manned by 10,496 officers and men. In consequence of the development of railway communication, 764 miles of this line were abolished in the Central Provinces in 1874-75, and eventually in 1878-79 the whole line from the western extremity of the Multan Division in the Panjab to the Central Provinces was removed. There remain now 543 miles, from the northern extremity of the Hazara district of the Panjab extending along the Indus to the junction of that river with the Sutlej, maintained for the purpose of preventing the low-taxed Kohat salt from crossing into the Panjab.

Irrespective of this line, in February 1870 the Inland Customs Department assumed charge of the Sambhar Lake belonging conjointly to the States of Jaipur and Jodhpur, and in October 1878 they received charge of the salt sources at Pachbadra, Didwana, Phalodi and Luni from the Jodhpur State.

The salt works at Sultanpur in the Delhi division are also worked under the supervision of the Northern India Salt Revenue Department. It has further the charge of the salt mines in the salt range in the Panjab, and of a force designated the Internal Branch existing in Oudh, the North-West Provinces, the Panjab, Rajputana, Behar, and in Calcutta, for the supervision of the saltpetre trade, for the levy of duty on salt educed from saltpetre, and for the control of the manufacture of other saline substances, such as sulphate of soda, carbonate of soda, etc.

The whole Inland Customs Department (now the Department of Salt Revenue in Northern India) is administered by the Commissioner of Northern India Salt Revenue, formerly responsible to the respective local Governments and Administrations within whose jurisdictions the customs organisation was established, but now immediately under the Government of India.

The duties levied on the customs line were on salt imported and sugar exported.

The general rates of duty on salt were as follow:—

	PER MAUND. On Rajputana Salts.
From 1843-44 to 1845-46	R1-8 and R2
From 1846-47 to end of 1859	R2
From beginning of 1860 to March 1861	R2-8
From March 1861 to end of December 1877	R3
From January 1878 to July 1878	R2-12
From July 1878 to 9th March 1882	R2-8
From 10th March 1882 to 18th January 1888	R2
From 19th January 1888 to date	R2-8

with the following exceptions: In the Sirsa division of the Panjab section, the duty was 8 annas per maund for a part of 1843-44, when it was raised to R1 per maund, at which figure it remained until 1846-47, when the duty was equalised with that generally levied. In the Saugor division of the Central Provinces section a rate of R1-8 per maund prevailed from the formation of the division in 1855-56 till the introduction of the general rate in 1859-60. In the Hoshungabad division, also formed in 1855-56, R1 per maund was levied until a date in 1859-60, and thereafter R1-8 until the general rate was introduced in 1860-61.

The duty on Madras salt entering the Central Provinces was levied, from the outset until the abolition of the portion of the line across which it passed, at R1-8 per maund.

Bombay salt entering the Central Provinces paid from the outset at the rate of R1-8 per maund until 1st May 1874, when a mileage rate was introduced on all salt travelling by rail from Bombay, the object of the differential rate being to level up the duty to a uniform rate by the time it reached Jubbulpore, where it came in contact with Northern India salt paying R3 duty. This mileage rate was abolished in 1878, when the salt duty was made uniform throughout India (except in Bengal and British Burma).

Salt excavated in the Sindh Saugor Doab and the Kalabagh mines was subject to duty as follows:—

	PER MAUND.
From 1849-50 to April 1860	R2
From April 1860 to September 1861	R2-2
From September 1861 to December 1877	R3

Salt excavated at the Kohat mines was subject to a duty of 4 annas, 3 annas and 2 annas per maund. A uniform rate of 8 annas per Lahori maund at all the mines was introduced with effect from the 7th July 1883.

Salt educed in the process of manufacturing saltpetre has always been subject to the duty prevailing in Northern India.

Lower Burma.

In 1862 the tax on salt was levied upon pots employed in the manufacture at the following rates:—

For each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 8 annas; each iron cauldron, R5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

In 1867 the rates were as follows:—

In the Pegu division—

I.—Rangoon district—

Each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 12 annas; each iron cauldron, R5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

II.—Bassein district—

Each earthen pot holding about 6 gallons, 8 annas; each iron cauldron, R5 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

III.—Myanaung (now Henzada and Tharawaddy) district—

Each earthen pot, if used, 2 annas; each iron cauldron, if used, R1.

In the Tenasserim division, except the Martaban (now Amherst) district—

Each earthen pot producing on the average 1 viss of salt at the boiling, 8 annas; each iron cauldron R2-8-0 (or at these rates, according to capacity).

In the Martaban (now Amherst) district—Each earthen pot, 6 annas.

In the Arakan division: Each earthen pot, 8 annas.

Between 1879 and 1882 the salt excise revenue was levied under the authority of the Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876, section 39 of which authorized the Chief Commissioner to make rules—

(a) for granting licenses to manufacture salt;

(b) for imposing on all salt manufactured a duty at a rate not exceeding the rate of customs duty for the time payable on salt imported by sea;

(c) for compounding with any holder of a license for the payment by him of an annual sum assessed upon the plant employed by him in lieu of the duty which would be payable to him on the salt produced with the aid of such plant.

Rules made under this section in 1879 provided—

(i) that on all salt manufactured in British Burma an excise duty should be levied at the rate at which customs duty was for the time being levied on salt imported by sea;

(ii) that in lieu of the said duty an annual sum should be assessed upon the pots or cauldrons used in the manufacture, at a rate not exceeding R1 per pot and R5 per cauldron.

The rates in force before the passing of the Burma Land and Revenue Act were still maintained.

Section 39 (b) of the Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876, was repealed by Act XII of 1882, and Finance and Commerce Department Notification No. 751, dated the 28th April 1882, provided that the excise duty levied on salt manufactured in British Burma should be 3 annas a maund. The practice under which this excise duty was compounded for an annual sum calculated on the implements of manufacture was still maintained, and no change was made in the rates of composition. Finance and Commerce Department Notification No. 343, dated the 19th January 1888, raised the duty on salt in Lower Burma to R1 a maund. This increase rendered a proportional increase necessary in the rates of composition duty. Successive notifications were accordingly published in 1888, 1889, and 1890 under which the composition duty was gradually raised until it reached the amount which was believed to represent the sum which would have been obtained if an excise duty had been directly levied. The composition duty now levied under the notification of 1890 is as follows:—

Upper Burma.

In Upper Burma before annexation the manufacture of salt was carried on in various parts of the country. and a certain amount of revenue was derived from it by taxing the implements of manufacture In 1888, after information had been gathered as to the nature and extent of the industry, a duty of R5 on each pan used in manufacture was imposed in all districts in which the manufacture of salt had previously been untaxed, and of R10 where it had been customary to pay a tax. At the same time manufacturers of salt were required to take out licenses. Further enquiries were made in 1889 and 1890 concerning the salt industry in Upper Burma, and in 1889* the same duty was imposed on salt imported into or manufactured in Upper as in Lower Burma, namely, R1 a maund. In 1890 the following rates were fixed as the duty payable in lieu of the excise duty of R1 a maund, which they were believed to represent as nearly as possible. At the same time the manufacture of salt was prohibited except in the districts for which rates were fixed and in the Upper Chindwin district:—

DISTRICT.	Rates.
Minbu	Per earthen pot or bowl-shaped iron cauldron of from 2 to 2½ gallons capacity, R5 ; per bowl-shaped iron cauldron, 6 gallons or upwards in capacity, R10.

Shwebo	The equivalent in cash of the royal share of the salt manufactured from these wells.

Duty on Salt Imported by Sea, into Burma.

No information is available as regards the duty on salt imported before 1855. Under the provisions of Section III, Act XXX of 1854, beginning from the 1st day of January 1855, the maximum duty fixed on salt imported by sea into any part of the Arakan, Pegu, Martaban, and Tenasserim provinces was 8 annas a maund, but it is not known whether the maximum rate was ever imposed. The Act also provided for an export duty of 4 annas a maund on salt exported beyond the northern frontier of Pegu by the Irrawaddy or the river Sittang. By Act XVI of 1875, the Indian Tariff, the rate of import duty on salt imported into British Burma was fixed at 3 annas per maund of 3,200 tolas, subsequently altered by Act XI of 1882 to $82\frac{2}{7}$lb avoirdupois. This rate was raised to R1 per maund of $82\frac{2}{7}$lb avoirdupois, with effect from the 19th January 1888, and duty has since been levied at this rate.

For the consumption and revenue in Burma, see Tables Nos. 4 and 5.

OPIUM.

BENGAL OPIUM.

The tract in which the poppy is cultivated in Bengal comprises eleven districts in the west of the Lower Provinces, situated in the divisions of Patna, Bhágalpur, and Chota Nagpur, and twenty-nine districts of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The former districts are, in respect of opium, under the control of an officer styled Opium Agent, Bihar, whose head-quarters are at Patna. The latter are under the Opium Agent, Benares, whose head-quarters are at Ghazipur, near Benares. At Patna and Ghazipur there are two Government factories at which the crude opium is manufactured into the form in which it passes into consumption. Subject to the immediate supervision of the Opium Agents and their respective staffs, the cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are regulated by Act XIII of 1857 under the general control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces. The possession, transport, import and export of opium are regulated by rules framed under section 5, Act I of 1878 (the Indian Opium Act).

Cultivation is permitted only under licenses granted under the authority of the Opium Agent. The area to be cultivated is fixed by the license, and the cultivator is bound to sell the whole of his outturn to the Opium Department at the rate fixed by Government. This rate has, since 1881-82, been Rs. 5 per seer of opium of seventy degrees consistency. Advances are given to the licensed cultivators on account of their crops, according to fixed rates at the time of executing the agreement, and from time* to time, until final delivery. Interest is not charged on these advances. In March or April the opium is made over to the Opium officers and weighed and tested, and as soon as possible afterwards each cultivator's accounts are adjusted, and the balance due is paid to him.

The total area under cultivation during each of the last ten years and the outturn according to the weighments were as follows :—

These figures are for the year of manufacture, 1st September to 31st August.

After weighment the opium is taken to the Government factories at Patna and Ghazipur, where it is manufactured. The manufactured product is turned out in two† forms, viz. :—

(a) that which is intended for export to China and the Straits Settlements, technically known as "provision" opium, and

(b) that which is intended for consumption in India, technically known as "Excise" opium.

Provision opium is made up in the form of balls or cakes, each weighing 3·5 lbs., and is packed in chests, each chest containing forty cakes, weighing 140⅐lbs.

Excise opium is made up in cubical packets, each weighing one ser.

* Ordinarily two advances only are given.

† A small amount of opium for medical purposes is also made at Patna, and at Ghazipur morphia and codeia are made from opium not fit for other purposes.

Provision opium is disposed of by public auction in Calcutta. In June of each year, a notification is published stating the number of chests from each Agency which will be put up to sale in each month of the following calendar year : and the quantities so notified are not altered without three months' notice. The quantities depend on the amount manufactured and the reserve stock. The following statement shows, for each of the last ten years, the quantities sold, the average price realised per chest, the sale proceeds, and the reserve stock in hand at the end of the year.

* The cost price differs slightly in the two factories. The figures represent the average of a chest from each factory without regard to the total outturn of each.

				1893	1,814

The duty levied by the Government on each chest may be taken to be the difference between the average price realised each year, and the average cost price in the same year, as shown in the preceding tables. For example, the duty in the year 1891-92 may be taken as about R608 a chest.

Under a convention, which dates from 1815, the French Government has the right to purchase not more than 300 chests of opium each year, at the average price realised by the rest of the opium at the sales. This right has been commuted for a money payment which at present amounts to R5,000 a year, under an agreement which terminated on 31st December 1893, but which will probably be renewed.

Excise opium is distributed from the factories or from the Calcutta warehouse to the Government Treasuries, whence it is issued on payment to the licensed vendors. For purposes of account, a sum of R7-4-0 per seer out of the proceeds of this opium is credited under the head of Opium as representing the cost price. The remainder of the proceeds is credited under Excise.

MALWA OPIUM.

Malwa opium is produced in the Baroda State, and in the following Native States in the Rajputana and Central India Agencies. It is not produced in British territory, except to a limited extent in the small tract of Ajmere-Merwara.

In these States the British Government has no concern whatever with the cultivation of the poppy or the manufacture of opium. Neither has it any concern with the export of the opium, except that it levies a duty on opium which passes into or through British territory, either for local consumption in British India or for export by sea to China. It is this duty, commonly called pass-duty, which constitutes the British revenue from Malwa opium.

Government is enabled to raise this revenue because the States in which the opium is produced have no access to the sea, except through British territory. The import of the opium into, or transport through, British territory is prohibited except under passes granted under the authority of the Opium Agents,* and on payment of the pass-duty.

Passes are granted after weighment of the opium at scales maintained by the Opium Agents. The three principal scales are maintained at Indore in Central India, at Ajmere in Rajputana, and at Ahmadabad in the Bombay Presidency. The last was intended for opium from Baroda and the small State of Dungarpore in Rajputana. There are also subsidiary scales at some other convenient places.

The poppy is sown in Malwa in November: the plants are in flower in the beginning of February, and by the end of March the whole of the opium is collected by the cultivators, and ready for sale. The village bankers and others who get possession of the raw opium, usually retain it until the end of April, and during May and June it is bought by the large dealers, who make it up into balls of about twelve ounces each, and expose it in storehouses to dry for the next two or three months, after which it is ready for the scales. It is usually ready for export by September; but as considerable dryage takes place during transport to Bombay while it is new, it is commonly kept back till October. A chest of Malwa opium contains 140lbs. weight, to which an allowance of 4oz. is added for leaf and dust, making a total of 140¼lbs. The opium is usually packed in half-chests for convenience of carriage.

The rates of pass-duty levied since 1862 on opium weighed for export by sea have been as follows:—

From	Per chest. Rs.
1st October 1862 ...	600
16th July 1877 ...	675 if weighed at Ajmere for export by sea from Bombay. 650 if weighed elsewhere for export by sea from Bombay.
15th September 1879 ...	725 if weighed at Ajmere for export by sea from Bombay. 700 if weighed elsewhere for export by sea from Bombay.
28th June 1882 ...	675 if weighed at Ajmere for export by sea from Bombay. 650 if weighed elsewhere for export by sea from Bombay.
5th July 1890 ...	625 if weighed at Ajmere for export by sea from Bombay. 600 if weighed elsewhere for export by sea from Bombay.

Opium which has been weighed and passed for export by sea from Bombay may, after arrival at Bombay, be diverted for local consumption on payment of a higher rate of pass duty, as follows, viz:—

	Per chest. Rs.
When the pass for such opium was granted at Ajmere	725
Ditto ditto ditto elsewhere	700

* The Agent to the Governor-General, Central India, and the Commissioner of Ajmere-Merwara are ex-officio Opium Agents for their respective charges.

III—concluded.

MALWA OPIUM—concluded.

When opium is weighed directly for local consumption and not for export by sea, the higher duty is charged at once. The reason why a higher rate of pass-duty is levied at Ajmere is that, as these scales are situated in British territory, the opium weighed there is not subject to the dues levied by the Native States.

The pass-duty on the opium weighed for export is paid by hundis, or bills, payable in Bombay. After weighment, and delivery of the hundi, the opium is transported to Bombay under cover of the pass by railway, the cost of transit being borne by the owner. In Bombay it is received by the Commissioner of Customs and Opium, who is responsible for seeing that it corresponds with the covering pass, and who detains it until the hundi has been cashed. The opium is then warehoused, and is at the disposal of the owner, for export or local consumption, subject to the provisions of the Opium Act and Bombay Opium Rules.

PANJAB.

The cultivation of the poppy is permitted (under licenses for each crop) throughout the Panjab, except in the districts marginally noted, where it has long been prohibited, the total area under poppy having usually been about 13,000 acres. There are, however, only five really opium-producing districts—Umballa, Simla, Kangra, Shahpur, and Dera Ghazi Khan. In the remaining districts in which the plant is grown, opium is either not extracted, or, if it is extracted, only a small amount of it becomes available for sale by licensed vendors, the rest being surreptitiously disposed of; and the produce is consumed in the shape of a drink called post made from poppy-heads, either illicitly, or after passing through the hands of licensed vendors.

Delhi, Gurgaon, Rohtak, Hissar, the greater part of Karnal, and part of Ferozepore.

An acreage duty is levied on the cultivation of the poppy, at the rate of Rs. 2 per acre in the five chief opium-producing districts, and Gujrat, which adjoins Shahpur, and at the rate of Rs. 4 per acre in the rest of the Province.

A cultivator is not permitted to consume any part of the produce of his crop himself. He is bound either (a) to dispose of it standing to a license-holder, who extracts the opium and sells it to a licensed wholesale or retail vendor, or (b) to extract the opium himself and dispose of it, or of the produce, in the shape of poppy-heads, to a licensed retail or wholesale vendor.

Opium produced in the Hill States, in Kashmir, and in independent territory west of the Indus, is imported by wholesale vendors, and is subject to no import duty.

BARODA.

The cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are permitted in the Baroda State under a State monopoly for consumption in its own territory and for export to China. The State has undertaken to assimilate its opium retail system and selling prices to those for the time being in force in adjoining British districts, and to prevent the introduction of Baroda opium into British territory and into the territories of adjoining Native States.

AJMERE-MERWARA.

In these two districts, which form a small tract of British territory in the midst of the Native States constituting the Rajputana Agency, the cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture and sale of opium are permitted without restriction, except in the three municipalities of Ajmere, Beawar, and Kekry, and the Cantonment of Nasirabad. This course is rendered necessary in consequence of the impossibility of preventing smuggling from the surrounding country. The poppy is cultivated chiefly in Merwara, which is a narrow strip of hill country surrounded by opium-growing Native States. The population is much addicted to the use of opium, and any rule restricting its use would be habitually infringed.

In the three Municipalities and the Cantonment of Nasirabad, a license is required for the cultivation of the poppy, or the manufacture or sale of opium.

BURMA.

Opium is produced in the Shan State beyond British limits, and in the Kachin villages of the British districts in Upper Burma noted in the margin. From the former tracts the drug is allowed to be imported for their personal use by foreign horse-dealers or travellers in quantities not exceeding 15 tolas for each traveller or for each horse or pony. The foreign opium thus brought into Upper Burma, chiefly viâ Bhamo and Mandalay, is subject to an import duty of Rs. 15 per viss (or 3·65 lb. avoirdupois). On locally produced drug an excise duty is levied at the rate of 8 annas for each quarter of a pé (·44 of an acre) or fraction of a quarter of a pé cultivated with poppy. Neither of these classes of opium is permitted to be exported to Lower Burma.

Katha, Bhamo and Upper Chindwin.

(a) The excise system was introduced into the Panjab in October 1849 in March of which year the province was annexed.

(b) The Internal Branch was organized under Act XXXI of 1861, but the figures for 1861-62 to 1865-66 inclusive are not available.

(c) Not available for the years previous to 1871-72. From 1871-72 the quantity of imported salt only is given. The quantity of locally manufactured salt cannot be given, rough estimates only being available.

(d) In February 1870, the Inland Customs Department assumed charge of the Sambhar Lake and in October 1878 of the Rajputana Salt Sources which previous to that year had been under the control of Native States. The whole Inland Customs Department has now become the Department of Salt Revenue in Northern India and is administered by the Commissioner, Northern India Salt Revenue.

NOTE.—Selling price means the price at which salt was sold by Government exclusive of duty.

* Per Lahore maund, which is equivalent to [illegible] lbs.

† These are the special rates charged at Ganjam and Ichapur (Surla) from 1874 to 1878.

‡ The selling price represents the general selling price of Government salt only. In one or two factories Government salt is sold at 4 annas and in one factory at 2 annas. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 4 to 5 annas per Indian maund.

§ Four annas is the special rate at Ganjam and two annas at Paudraka and Vaippair. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 2 annas 6·6 pies to 5 annas 2 pies per Indian maund.

¶ Four annas is the special rate at Ganjam and two annas at Paudraka. The price of excise salt varies and averages from 2 annas 5·9 pies to 4 annas 6·8 pies per Indian maund

NOTE.—The figures from 1841-42 to 1854-55 have been taken from Mr. Plowden's Salt Report; those from 1855-56 to 1864-65 from Salt Administration Report for 1864-65, and the next three years' figures from the Administration Report for 1867-68.

(a) The excise system which had been discontinued in 1840 was resumed in 1847.

* True average for the years previous to 1880-81 is probably about R2 lower than the stated average.

NOTE.—The quantity of total sales is exclusive of 5 per cent. wastage allowed on wholesale transactions.

(a) The years previous to 1878-79 are fasli years (1st July to 30th June), and those from 1878-79 official years.

The figures in columns 7 and 8 (total sales and gross revenue) are with one exception exclusive of dutiable salt imported on private account and inclusive of (1) salt manufactured and sold under the excise system, (2) supplied to the French Government and for fish-curing, etc., as detailed in table 12, (3) exported by sea. The exception is duty on salt imported on private account which is included under column 8, although the quantity is excluded from columns as above stated.

The figures in column 8 also exclude duty remaining unrealised at the close of the year under the credit system, but include realisations of previous year's outstandings and miscellaneous receipts.

(b) Include collections on account of earth salt manufacture in the Ceded Districts and Kurnool, where it was permitted up to January 1879. The charges from 1874-75 also include the compensation paid for closing the earth salt works in Madras.

NOTE.—The quantity shown under Home and Inland Consumption from the year 1873-74 is exclusive of 5 per cent. wastage allowed on wholesale transactions, whereas the figures for the previous years include it. The quantity given from the year 1822-23 to 1873-74 is inclusive of salt supplied to the Amindivi islands.

* This total differs from the "Total of Sales" in the previous account only by the quantity of salt in the column for "Wastage."

From the year 1880-81 the figures above are exclusive of salt imported on private account, but inclusive of salt manufactured under the excise system.

(a) The years previous to 1877-78 are fasli years (1st July to 30th June), and those from 1878-79 official years.

(b) Excludes 3,999 and 28,749 maunds of salt destroyed under condition 14 of the excise license.

* There is no record of the actual number of chests exported from Bombay during the years 1830-31 to 1834-35, and the number of chests for those years has been calculated from the amount of pass-duty collected in each year.

† In the years so marked, calculations similar to the above, are not practicable, two rates of duty having existed, while the actual number of chests is not upon record.

Note.—There is a great deal of opium-smuggling which does not appear in this statement, which therefore gives a somewhat less amount than that actually imported.

All the opium imported into Siam is believed to be Benares opium brought chiefly from Singapore.

† The sums of Rx. 251 and Rx. 6 were realised in 1886-87 and 1887-88 from the Ajmere-Merwara districts under the system of granting copies of judicial documents on stamped folios, which, however, was found unsuitable to local conditions and abandoned in favour of the system formerly in force.

(b) Average for 7 months, the Currency office having been opened at Akola in September 1868.

NOTE.—The figures in this table show the gross circulation, less the notes of the several circles in the Bombay Presidency which may have been cashed in other circles in the same presidency. From March 1862 to August 1864 there was but one (the Bombay) circle in the Bombay Presidency. The Nágpur Circle was attached to the Bengal Presidency up to July 1867, and its circulation up to that month is included in the totals for the Bengal Presidency, although for convenience of arrangement the circulation of the Nágpur Circle is shown from September 1864 in this table.

TABLE SHOWING OUTTURN OF SILVER BULLION OR SPECIE REMITTANCE FROM ENGLAND TO INDIA.

EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

The calculations used in the preparation of this table are as follows:—

A.—To the cost of an ounce troy of standard silver in London, 1 per cent. is added for freight and charge for remitting, and to the total cost ⅛ per cent. is added as interest for the time taken by a bullion remittance in excess of the time occupied by a remittance by bill. This sum is divided by the mint outturn of an ounce of fine silver bullion received into the mint after cutting, as given below, and the quotient, showing the cost of a Government rupee in India in pence, is entered in column A:—

One ounce troy of English standard silver	=	2·6909
Mint duty and melting charge at Rs. 21 per mille	=	·0565
NET VALUE	.	2·6344
Mint loss in melting at ·25 per mille	=	·0007
MINT NET OUTTURN	.	2·6337

B.—The rates in this column are based on the same data as in A, except that ½ per cent. is added as interest.

C.—The rates in this column are based on the transit charges, being 1¼ per cent., viz., freight ½ per cent., insurance ½ per cent., boxes, packing, &c., ⅛ per cent., brokerage ⅛ per cent., interest at ⅛ per cent. The mint outturn of an ounce of fine silver bullion is Rs. 2·6337.

D.—The rates in this column are based on the same data as in C, except that interest is taken at ½ per cent. instead of ⅛ per cent.

DATA FOR CALCULATIONS.

English standard $\frac{37}{40}$th fine silver.

Indian standard $\frac{11}{12}$th ditto.

1 ounce troy = 2⅔ tolas.

CHARGES IN ENGLAND.

Freight, insurance, boxes, packing, brokerage, &c., 1 to 1¼ per cent.

Interest is calculated at 6 per cent. per annum on the time taken by a bullion remittance in excess of the time occupied by a remittance by bill. This excess is calculated at 7 and 28 days, and the interest for the time may be approximately taken at ⅛ and ½ per cent., respectively.

CHARGES IN INDIA.

Mint duty = 2 per cent.

Mint melting charge = 1 per mille.

Loss in melting silver bullion of inferior quality = ·25 per mille.

Note (1).—Throughout this series, with the exception of Table 14, the figures for Merchandise and Treasure include the Imports and Exports on account of Government.

(2).—For the years 1870-71 to 1873-74, revised figures have been included in all the tables in this series for Government treasure, and in Tables Nos. 1 and 2 for Government stores only. As corrected details in regard to articles and countries for Government stores are not available, the revision could not be carried out in the remaining tables, in which the totals of Merchandise for these years will consequently not be found to agree with those in Tables Nos. 1 and 2.

(3).—The figures down to 1852-53 are exclusive of those of subordinate ports of Bengal and Bombay.

(4).—The figures in this series to 1865-66 were taken from returns presented to Parliament. From 1866-67 they have been taken from returns furnished by Local Governments.
